

All Available WPA Jobs In Alabama Are Filled

Number of Applicants For WPA Jobs Five Times Number Of Jobs Now Available

Under existing unemployment conditions in Alabama there is small hope, if any, for the Works Progress Administration to provide additional jobs to take care of any persons, whether newly certified by the Departments of Public Welfare or re-certified after the 30-day lay-off prescribed by law, according to a statement made this week by Col. W. G. Henderson, Alabama administrator of the WPA.

This statement came following information reaching the Alabama office of the Works Progress Administration that county offices of the Department of Public Welfare were being flooded with applications from persons seeking aid or jobs through the WPA.

The Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1939 makes it mandatory that all persons who have held jobs on WPA projects continuously for eighteen months must be removed from these jobs. There were 16,000 persons caught in this lay-off order in Alabama and this does not mean there are 16,000 jobs open on WPA.

The appropriation for expenditures by WPA set out by the new act made it necessary for each state to cut off thousands of other WPA employees. In Alabama there will be 10,460 persons removed from WPA jobs in order for this state to come within the figure allowed for September 1.

Along with the statement from the Alabama administrator came the fact that already there are about 23,000 persons who have been certified and are waiting to take any vacancies that occur. The difference in the number of persons being removed due to eighteen months continuous WPA employment and the number to be dropped to come within the quota given Alabama was 5,712, which means there were only that many jobs open which were filled from the 23,000 persons already in the files of the WPA office awaiting orders to report to work; consequently, the hope for others to secure WPA employment at any time in the near future is very small.

Unless Alabama is given a larger quota, all places on WPA projects in the state have been filled and there are several thousands of persons already certified to take any vacancies that occur.

1939 Ranks High As A Bad Crop Year

Auburn, Ala.—With heavy rains falling in most sections last week and with crops already seriously hampered by adverse weather all spring and summer, 1939 appears to be one of the worst crop years in some time.

Cotton production is estimated to be well under last year because of rain and boll weevil damage from rains early in the year. With the torrents and floods of last week, agricultural workers predict the crop will be still further reduced. Farmers and agricultural workers agree that 1939 is a "sorry" corn year with but 50 to 70 per cent of a normal crop expected. From many sections, especially in northwest Alabama, have come dismal reports of a certain feed shortage to be encountered by many farmers.

While damage from last week's tropical storm and rain was reported from the northern section of the state, most serious trouble was in south Alabama, in many counties of which cotton was just opening when the storm and rain hit. In Geneva County open cotton was a complete loss and plants were "whipped" by the weather so badly that reduced yields are expected. Corn throughout central and south Alabama was laid low by the winds after the ground had become soft by the rain. Loss of corn was hard to predict, however, since much of the younger corn will "grow out of it."

Pecans were whipped from trees and other crops flooded by swollen creeks. While the town of Prattville was being flooded crops along the creek which flows through this town were also flooded. Damage to Autauga County crops had not been estimated by County Agent John Ford as this is written.

Health Department Examines County School Children

Three thousand and twenty children in the Shelby County schools were given examinations by the Health Department during the past school year.

The most common defects found were defective teeth, defective tonsils and adenoids, and underweight.

One hundred and sixty-five were found to have defective vision; 81 had had defective vision corrected by glasses; 90 had defective hearing. Any of the above conditions may seriously retard the child's progress in school as well as affect his general health. A child who is ill-nourished or who has chronically infected tonsils will hardly be able to compete with the child who has no such handicap. If the vision is defective, it is not possible for the pupil to concentrate on his studies for any length of time and he soon begins to fall behind his classmates.

Among other defects found were skin infections, infections of the eyelids, enlargement of the thyroid gland, abnormalities of the heart and lungs.

Since probably every group of children of any size has one or more diphtheria carriers, children who have not been previously immunized against this disease should certainly be given the toxoid on entering school.

Statistics from the United States as a whole show that smallpox has increased considerably in incidence in the past four years. This emphasizes the importance of early vaccination against this disease.—Dr. E. F. Sloan, County Health Officer.

Evans Home Destroyed By Fire Monday Night

The Evans home, about one-half mile from Montevallo between the Calera highway and the Spring Creek road, was completely destroyed by fire Monday night at about 10:30.

The family was away from home at the time, Mr. Evans in Washington and Mrs. Evans in Atlanta. The building was nearly down when the fire was discovered, and as there was no available water supply, the fire truck, which was dispatched to the scene, was unable to cope with the blaze.

All furniture was burned and the house was a complete loss.

V. L. Hubbard Dies Tuesday Night

Mr. V. L. Hubbard, prominent citizen of Wilton, died Tuesday night after becoming seriously ill Monday afternoon. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Lois Mahan Hubbard; two sons, Lance Hubbard, of Montgomery, and Dr. Leslie Hubbard, of Birmingham; one sister, Mrs. Nix of Maplesville.

Services will be conducted at the home this afternoon (Thursday) at 3:30. Interment will be in Montevallo Cemetery, Jeter in charge.

Mr. Hubbard was depot agent at Wilton for many years, and the community feels a distinct loss in his passing.

COLLEGE ENROLLMENT SHOWS INCREASE

The registration of students on August 10 at Alabama College, compared the same time a year ago, show there will be a wholesome increase in the total number at the opening of school, September 6, according to President A. F. Harman. He adds that "it is particularly noteworthy that the registration of upperclassmen is considerably larger than heretofore."

Miss Comer and Miss Kennedy and her mother will go to Savannah for a week's vacation.

Mrs. Irwin Sanders arrived Sunday after being in New England much of the summer while Dr. Sanders taught in the summer school.

Mrs. Lance Hubbard is spending her two-weeks vacation at Auburn, where she will probably take several fishing trips down the Coosa River.

Mrs. Dora Garrett Ramsour has returned to her home in Elkhart, Texas, where she will join her husband in his pastoral work in that section.

Mr. J. H. Henning is returning this week after completing his summer studies at Northwestern University.

Miss Elizabeth Allen, of the sociology department is going by boat this week from Jacksonville to New York for a short vacation.

The following announcement will be of interest to the people of Montevallo: "The library will be open from 10 to 12 during the vacation period."

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Stabler, Florey, Warfield Will Fill Vacancies in Various Departments

A number of new members will join the staff of Alabama College at the beginning of the 1939-40 session.

Cary V. Stabler of Greenville succeeds Miss Mary McWilliams as associate professor of history. Mr. Stabler received his Bachelor of Arts and Master's degrees from the University of Alabama. He has completed two years of work on his doctorate at Duke university. Miss McWilliams has accepted a position doing research with Dr. Hunter Farrish in Williamsburg, Virginia.

Miss Margaret Florey, of Bainsbridge, Ohio, will replace Miss Eleanor Rennie as instructor in speech. Miss Rennie's marriage was solemnized during the summer. Miss Florey was awarded her Bachelor of Arts and Master's degrees at the University of Ohio, where she was pledged to Phi Beta Kappa. She has taught in Bainsbridge and has served as dramatics counselor at Camp Con-ed-in in York, Pennsylvania for two years.

Jack Warfield, graduate of the University of Wisconsin, with a Master's degree from the University of Minnesota, will succeed Miss Helen Howell as instructor in dramatics. Mr. Warfield has directed theatricals in Milwaukee. Miss Howell's engagement has been recently announced, the wedding to take place in early fall.

Shelby Southard, graduate of Birmingham-Southern college, succeeded Charles G. Dobbins as executive secretary. Mr. Southard received his Master's degree from Vanderbilt university. He has gained much experience in the field of public relations pertaining to colleges. Mr. Dobbins resigned his position here when he purchased the ANNISTON TIMES.

Lowery Turner, '39, will succeed Virginia Harrison as secretary to Dr. Minnie L. Steckel. Virginia will complete work on her bachelor's degree here.

Margaret Hannah Haslam, '39, has taken a position as clerical assistant in the offices of the business manager and the bursar here.

Frances Baxter, '38, will succeed Betty Perrin, '38, as assistant secretary in the home economics department.

Noted Archer Displays Skill At College

The campus of Alabama College became Sherwood Forest, and Howard Hill, world famed archer, was Robin Hood, Friday afternoon when a demonstration of his skill with a bow and arrow was given before assembled summer school students.

Hill, whose fame as an archer has been celebrated in movie shorts and who has written three authoritative books on the subject, was Errol Flynn's double in the bow and arrow sequences of the recent cinema, "Robin Hood."

Students were particularly interested in the visitor because his wife, the former Elizabeth Hodges, of Wilsonville, is a former student of Alabama College.

His exhibition included feats of marksmanship, poise, balance and nerve control. He has hunted wild animals, including the grizzly, armed only with the bow and arrow.

PREVIEW

London military speculation suggests the possibility that if war comes over Poland, British and French planes may fly back and forth between France and Poland, bombing Germany coming and going.

"Many suppose," it is reported, "the British, French, and Polish general staffs, quietly devising a new European war strategy, have worked out a plan for virtually continuous round-trip rails on Germany."

It may be assumed that there would be appropriate retaliation on Germany's part—possibly such bombing flights over France between Germany and Italy or Spain, for example.

This talk affords an arresting preview of what the next general war would be like. — Birmingham Age-Herald.

RETRACTION

Not so long ago in a certain town a paper came out with the statement, "Half of the members of the City Council are crooks."

The next day the City Council angrily demanded the paper retract this statement.

And so the next issue of the paper carried this:

"Half of the members of the City Council are not crooks."—Editor and Publisher.

Campers Blamed In Woods Fires

During the calendar year of 1938 there were 36,061 forest fires in the state of Alabama on organized protection areas. Two thousand and five hundred, or seven per cent, of the fires were started by campers and vacationists, according to records of the State Forestry Division.

The months of August and September will see many Alabamians flock to outdoor resorts such as state parks, national forests, private camps and other places. The danger of campers setting the woods ard is increased during the dry months of the fall beginning in September.

Carelessness, the forestry division reports, is responsible for the setting of woods fires, and an appeal to the people to exercise care this year is being broadcast through the conservation committee of the Alabama Garden Clubs.

A few simple rules, if observed strictly, will eliminate a good part of the fires started by campers. They are:

1. Put out every lighted match, cigarette or cigar before throwing it away. Break the match in two, and stamp out the cigarette or cigar on a spot of bare ground.

2. Leave no live sparks from your campfire. Drown it out with plenty of water before leaving. Embers, apparently extinguished, may smolder for hours and then burst into flames and spread all over the woods.

3. Report any and all fires you see in the woods to the nearest forest ranger, game warden, or federal official at once.

4. Leave a clean camp and a clean record so you will be welcomed again.

15 COUNTIES USE AAA GRANTS PLAN

Auburn, Ala.—An announcement made today by A. W. Jones, state AAA officer in Alabama, indicates that only 15 counties in Alabama are taking advantage of an offer that is open to farmers in all 67 counties.

Farmers of only 13 counties have made use of the grant-of-aid plan to obtain triple superphosphate for pastures and winter legumes and only two counties have applied for lime under the plan for applying to all lands of the state except the lime soils of the Black Belt.

All farmers have to do to obtain the lime and superphosphate is to make application through the county AAA office. The cost of the amount he orders will be deducted from his AAA payments and no cash will be required.

Approximately 120,000 persons are furnished employment by Alabama industries, it is shown in an industrial directory published by the Alabama State Chamber of Commerce.

Youth Administration Is Explained By State Officer

Receipt of allocation totaling $1,991,521.00 to finance the school aid program and the work program of the National Youth Administration for the current fiscal year are announced today by John E. Bryan, state administrator.

The quotas for Alabama students to receive student aid in 1939-40 are anticipated as follows: Approximately 10,795 for student aid compared with 6,680 receiving student aid in 1938-39. This will be an increase of 4,115 students receiving the student aid assistance. Those receiving college and graduate aid are expected to number 2,326 compared with 2,062 for 1938-39. This is an increase of 264 to receive college and graduate aid during 1939-40. A total amount of $529,321 for the school aid program has been received. This increase in student aid will be the result of the $119,451 increase in allotment for 1939-40 over the previous allotment of $193,600 for 1938-39; making a grand total allotment for student aid for Alabama of $313,061 for 1939-40. The increase in college and graduate aid is the result of the increase of the allotment for 1938-39 in the amount of $24,225, raising the allotment from the previous $192,045 to the present $216,270.

One million, four hundred sixty-two thousand, two hundred dollars has been allocated to the work program in this state. This money is expended among the resident and construction projects. Through these projects the National Youth Administration is trying to provide employment opportunities for unemployed young people and assist them in training for private industry.

College Residential Work

Among these projects the National Youth Administration has inaugurated a college residential work project which enables youths to attend colleges and at the same time be working on the residential work project. In order to be eligible for the college work program, a youth must be certified by the Department of Public Welfare of the county of his residence. When this application has been accepted by the Department of Public Welfare, the youth applies directly to the college of his choice, submitting a transcript of his scholastic record and other references required by individual school. He should also state that he is eligible for the National Youth Administration work project as he has been certified by the Department of Public Welfare. In addition to the need requirement, a youth's high school record must be above the average and indicate that he will profit by a college education.

Method of Selection

To be eligible to receive the assistance stated above, young men and women must be between the ages of 16 and 24. Those under sixteen or those who have reached their 25th birthday are not eligible. Character and the ability to maintain a satisfactory scholastic record are taken into consideration, as well as the element of need. All non-profit making, tax-exempt educational institutions in operation on October 1, 1938, are eligible to participate in the National Youth Administration student aid program and through the establishment of work projects, to provide employment for NYA students. Selection of the NYA student recipients is the responsibility of the school authorities, who also devise and supervise the types of work upon which NYA students are employed. The only requirements imposed by the National Youth Administration are that the recipients shall be chosen on the basis of need, that they shall carry at least three-quarters of a normal course of study, and that the work provided shall be genuinely useful and shall not displace any of the institution's regular employees. The president of the college, the principal of the high school, or their designated officials select the youths who are permitted to participate in the National Youth Administration program for their particular institution and all inquiries should be directed to them. Application blanks may be obtained from these officials. After completion, the blank should be submitted to the president of the institution the applicant wishes to attend if he wishes college or graduate aid, to the principal of the high school if he wishes school aid assistance. When the application has received official approval, the applicant will be notified of his acceptability by the college or high school. Prior to any student's attending college on this basis, he must be accepted by the college. The basis of selection of the individual youth will be determined by his acceptability to the college as a student, his scholastic standing, and his ability to benefit by a college education.

Monthly Payments

The monthly payment to NYA undergraduate college students in colleges and universities is based on a minimum of $10 or an average of $15. A student receiving NYA graduate aid may average $25 a month. These hourly wage rates are the same as those usually prevailing in the respective institutions or localities for the same type of work. The student aid program as a whole is almost equally divided between boys and girls. The minimum amount paid for student aid assistance is $3.00 with an average of $4.50 monthly.

KEEPING FIT

A one-woman track team is golden-tressed June Preisser, former Broadway dancing star. June started running dashes, hurdling and high-jumping ten years ago as a condition for her dancing. She found it ideal for keeping her legs limbered and strong for her unique style of acrobatic-tap dancing so she still trains that way.

Preservation, restoration and marking of historic sites in Alabama is advocated by the Alabama State Chamber of Commerce as a means of attracting tourists to the state.

Marine Band Will Open College Concert Series

The sixty-five scarlet-and-blue uniformed musicians of the United States Marine Band will formally open the Alabama College concert and lecture series in Palmer Hall October 2.

Judged by many as the world's premier military band, the Marine Band is known for its concerts which compare favorably with those of the finest symphony orchestras. So skilled are the eight soloists with the band, that they compose many of their own solos.

Since New Year's Day, 1801, when that body was little more than a motley fife-and-drum corps, the Marine Band has played at every official function at the executive mansion. In addition to these appearances, it has often been called upon to play in the Hall of Congress on Sunday.

The band is conducted by Captain Taylor Branson who is often called "a genius at program building."

While his programs comprise strictly first-class music, they are balanced so as not to be "heavy," or tedious. They range from symphonic arrangements to stirring military and novelty songs.

Tentative plans for other numbers include Mme. Pearl V. Metzger who will lecture to home economics classes on dietetics. She will be here in late October or early November.

Eva LeGallienne and a New York cast will be presented in either "The Master Builder" or "Hedda Gabor" in late November.

Poldi Milner, youthful Viennese pianist, will appear in January. The Minneapolis Symphony orchestra will play February 13, and the final performance will be given in March by Argentinia and her Spanish dancers.

Dr. and Mrs. M. L. Orr and daughters, Marie and Laurie, and Mr. and Mrs. Robin Hood and daughter, Helen, left Wednesday for a trip to Panama City, Fla.

A REPORTER'S NOTES

"—Action against bad spots..15news, 3suspends.. 78warnings ..Dunn says 100%improvement..hand in hand ABC..Public opinion, once aroused, can and will operate to bring about the orderly conditions we all desire. —Bm Luncheon Club..quote unsolicited letter"

Scribbled across a folded sheet of white paper, those would be a reporter's notes on the campaign of the Brewers and Alabama Beer Distributors Committee for improved conditions in the retail beer outlets.

From those notes would come this story:

SELF-REGULATION MEANS BETTER BEER OUTLETS

The Brewers and Alabama Beer Distributors Committee—voice of Alabama's $5,000,000 beer industry—reported today that it had obtained 15 revocations and three suspensions of retail beer licenses, and had warned 73 outlets in its drive against the bad spots among the state's 1,600 retail establishments.

David E. Dunn, State Director, said that conditions showed 100 percent improvement as a result of the beer industry's campaign that was drafted to go hand-in-hand with the aggressive enforcement work of the Alabama Alcoholic Beverage Control Board.

"The A B C Board," Mr. Dunn said, "is cooperating in every way to drive from Alabama the undesirable honky tonk."

Speaking before a Birmingham luncheon club, Mr. Dunn sought the aid of public minded citizens by declaring that "public opinion, once aroused, can and will operate to bring about the orderly conditions we all desire."

Three days after his address, Mr. Dunn received the following unsolicited letter from a leading citizen:

"I want to express my appreciation of the work you and your Committee have done in relieving Alabama from 'joints'. I believe I like beer as well as anyone, but I do not like to drink it in a 'joint', which I feel is a public nuisance. I feel sure that the work you are doing is a progressive step and is doing much to establish the brewing industry on the reputable basis which it deserves."

That's our story. Will you, the public, help by patronizing only reputable, law-abiding retail beer dealers who keep their establishments as wholesome as beer itself?

Questions And Answers On Social Security Regulations

Use Judgment In Buying Cloth, Advises Auburn Specialist

Auburn, Ala. — Have they announced the August "White Sale" at your favorite clothing store yet? They will probably hold one and it will be to the housewife's advantage, says Neil Pickens, home management specialist of the Alabama Extension Service, to know what to look for to get the best bargains. Homemakers the state over will be interested in the articles offered during the August white sale. A few rules suggested by Miss Pickens will help in the selection of cotton goods.

Probably the most popular article will be the bath towel. A good towel, says Miss Pickens, will be closely woven for strength, have a good selvedge, and be made from good quality cotton fabric. Look for the label telling these things and try to get medium-sized towels.

Bed linens, which incidentally are really bed cottons, should be bought on the strength of good fabric and size. Select 90x109 inch sheets for double beds and 72x108 sheets for single beds. A sheet too small will not wear nearly so well as one the correct size. Select bed spreads that are pre-shrunk, color fast, and obviously serviceable—that is, of good quality material.

Damask table cloths have long been favorites. It pays to buy a good piece of damask in appearance, in length of life, and in the pleasure it gives the owner. There will, however, be some nice cotton sets and many odds and ends of color-fast cotton material may be picked up at the sales that can be worked into breakfast and luncheon sets in the winter. Study the material closely at the sales, is Miss Pickens' advice.

HUNTING ACCIDENTS TOTAL 23 DURING 1937

Montgomery, Ala. — Nearly one out of every three accidental deaths from firearms reported in this state in 1937 occurred while the victims were hunting, according to a special study of firearms deaths conducted by the Bureau of Vital Statistics of the State Department of Health.

Of the total of 73 accidental deaths from firearms, 23 were attributed to the discharge of guns on hunting expeditions. Those fatally shot while playing with guns

Washington, D. C.—Chairman Arthur J. Altmeyer, of the Social Security Board, calls the new amendments to the program "the most important piece of legislation in this Congress or any other that I know of."

"We will now have an old age and survivors' system with over 45,000,000 people," he told reporters.

Here are some questions and answers regarding the old-age assistance part of the program as Congress has voted to revise it:

Q.—What is old-age assistance?

A.—It is financial assistance given the needy aged by the states and federal government.

Q.—How does it differ from the old age insurance program?

A.—Under the old age insurance or retirement program, employees and employers contribute to a pooled trust fund, from which pensions are paid to workers after they reach 65. Old age assistance, on the other hand, requires no contributions by the beneficiaries.

Q.—How do the new amendments to the social security act change the old age assistance plan?

A.—They increase the amount which the federal government may contribute toward such assistance from $15 to $20 a month for each recipient. This means that the maximum assistance for any individual would be $40 a month.

Q.—How is the federal aid distributed to the states?

A.—On a straight dollar-for-dollar matching basis. That is, if your state provides $7.50 monthly for assistance, the federal government will add $7.50 to that sum.

Q.—Then, unless my state government increases its contribution, there will be no increase in my state in the assistance for aged persons?

A.—That is true. The federal government cannot contribute any more than the state.

Q.—There was talk during the last session of Congress of the federal government giving $2 for every $1 provided by the states. What happened to that?

A.—The House refused to accept that amendment after it had passed the Senate, and it was taken out of the bill.

Q.—Who is eligible for old age assistance?

A.—Eligibility varies by states. Some states deny assistance to any elderly person who is a property owner; others do not. There are other points of difference in state laws. The federal law requires that the money go to the "needy aged."

Q.—How much does this assistance run?

A.—It ranges from $6.02 a month in Arkansas to $32.45 in California. The average payment for June, this year, was $19.42.

Q.—How can I obtain the details on assistance in my state, including eligibility, etc.?

A.—By visiting or writing your local or state welfare office.

Q.—Is any assistance provided for dependent children?

A.—The social security law, as amended, provides for dollar-for-dollar matching with state money for and to dependent children up to $18 a month for the first child and $12 for each of the other children in the same family.

Q.—Is this an increase over the old law?

A.—Yes. Under the old law, the basis of matching was one federal dollar for two state dollars. For instance, if a widow had been receiving $9 for a dependent child, she now will receive $12, since the federal government will provide $3 more.

Q.—When do the old age assistance and dependent children benefits become effective?

A.—Jan. 1 1940.

totalled 13, those fatally shot while carrying and handling guns numbered 14, and those who lost their lives as a result of cleaning guns totaled seven. Other types of accidents involving firearms claimed a total of 11 lives during the year.

Alabama has more than 1,700 manufacturing and mining industries that produce more than $400,000,000 in products annually, according to the Alabama State Chamber of Commerce.

In Miss Barker's English classes a study of essays has been made. The classes were given a chance to show their writing ability by observing several pictures, then writing essays on them. Some students found that they could write nicely. The outcome of the study was satisfactory.

Miss Barksdale's social economics class, through its study of the economic problems of today, is better fitted to understand and meet the problems with which they are faced.

The Senior II class in American history has made a very interesting study of the makers of American history. Each student made a booklet in which was placed a thorough description of their favorite history makers with sketches of their lives and works. It was very interesting to see who our favorite Americans were.

In view of the fact that the study of American literature has been so enjoyable, the students of the class chose their favorite author and made an interesting study of his life which they presented as a whole. The class has not only tried to produce writers, but successful orators as well.

In finishing their study of American history, the class decided to see just where and when the progress of our United States started. Presidents from Johnson through F. D. Roosevelt were talked about, including the most important things that took place in their administrations. The students know now how to appreciate their native country.

Regulations For Duck Hunting Season Given

Montgomery, Ala.—A 45-day duck season this year for Alabama, beginning on November 15 and ending December 29, was announced by Dr. Walter B. Jones, director of the State Department of Conservation. Regulations governing the taking of migratory birds and waterfowl are fixed by presidential proclamation through the U. S. Bureau of Biological Survey, and state regulations must conform.

For the second successive year Alabama will enjoy a 45-day open season on ducks and geese, with the duck bag limit remaining the same—10 a day and 20 allowed in possession at any time. The bag limit on geese was reduced from 5 to 4 a day.

Continuance next year of the 45-day season on ducks and geese will depend upon the conduct of hunters this year, Dr. Jones said, pointing out that the federal government was hesitant about declaring another 45-day season this year.

Strict observance of bag limits and all regulations relating to migratory birds is absolutely necessary during the 1939-40 season if duck hunters wish to have the same open season for 1940-41, Dr. Jones declared. If market hunters are allowed to slaughter birds and individual hunters disregard bag limits, it is possible that next year there will be no open season at all on migratory birds, he added.

Last year's regulations concerning the canvasback, bufflehead, ruddy duck and redhead remain in effect this year. Not more than three of each or in the aggregate may be taken in one day, and the possession limit is six. The three shell limit on shotguns also remains in effect.

The November 15-December 29 open season also applies to Wilson's snipe and coots. The daily bag limit on Wilson's snipe, or jack-snipes, is 15, and on coots, the daily limit is 25. The daily bag limit for rails and gallinules, other than cora and coots, is continued at 15 in aggregate of all kinds. All persons 16 years of age or over hunting migratory waterfowl are required to have a Federal Migratory Bird Hunting Stamp, commonly called duck stamps, purchasable at post-offices.

Jacksonville S. T. C. To Open Sept. 11

Jacksonville, Ala.—The fall quarter will begin at Jacksonville State Teachers College September 11, according to Dr. C. W. Daguet, president. The prospect list indicates another record-breaking enrollment, he stated, with many of last year's students returning, and others entering for the first time.

A large corps of workmen is engaged in cleaning, renovating, and making the necessary changes in expectation of the opening. Many students who work their ways through college are employed during the vacation period getting the buildings and grounds in shape.

Three new buildings will be ready for use when school opens, Dr. Daguet pointed out; an apartment dormitory, a library, and a physical education building, at a total cost of about $400,000. These improved facilities are expected to increase the enrollment, he said.

Miss Charlotte Johnson and Mr. Wilson Johnson of Norfolk, Va., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Albright.
